

Being a reading ambassador is all about reading for pleasure and sharing the enjoyment of reading a great book. Our reading ambassadors have been chosen for their love of reading and their enthusiasm to share this with others.

Part of the job of a reading ambassador is to encourage others in school to read more, and find their own love of reading. There is much research that shows children who read regularly at home perform better at school. As well as being beneficial to learning, it is also lots of fun when you find the right types of books for you!

Another role the Reading Ambassadors take, is making sure others get to know about new books, and all things related to reading.

They do this through:

- Learning about new reading books and how this can encourage a love of reading. They can then show and tell to the rest of the school all about anything new that they have tried out and liked. This happens through reading events such as the Stockport School Book Awards and World Book Day
- The Reading Ambassadors will read to other classes and individuals to help show what great reading role models they can look up to.
- They will pick and recommend books for children in all year groups to highlight the range and types of books we can all get in school for everyone to enjoy.
