This week...

Coming up after the holiday...

Please remember that we have an INSET day on Monday 12th June. All of the teachers are busy finishing off reports, whilst the teaching assistants are having some special training with Mrs. Reyes and a visitor to school. Therefore, school is not open to children but we will see you all on Tuesday 13th June.

Also, if you are in years 4, 5 and 6, please notice the gorgeous new flooring in your classrooms. Shiny and new for the final half term at school before summer.

We saw a 'Crazy Hair' day for pupils (and staff) who wanted to take part. This was for no other reason than to let our hair down...or to put it up again...after another busy term. It was lovely to see the children arriving for school dressed in their very smart uniforms but with a splash of colour and creativity as their crowning glory. Thank you to everyone for their efforts to bring about a fun end to the term. And please don't worry if this 'isn't your kind of thing'. We acknowledge that not everyone enjoys these days and so everything we do like this is always down to personal choice and preference.

A Message from the Headteacher

It's all in the planning...

Dear Parents and Carers,

This may well have been our shortest half term of the year but it has been packed 'full to bursting' with the usual excitement in learning but we have also been busy making plans for next half term.

In Nursery, children have been reading 'The Snail and the Whale'. They have also been drawing and making labels too.

In Reception, some of the butterflies have hatched from their cocoons Mrs Medford is also taking one home that has still to hatch, plus one with a broken wing to see how she can help it. The children have also been planting seeds this week and looking at growing and planting.

Year 1 children have been planting broad beans and talking about conditions for growth. Ask your child what plants need to grow and how to best look after them.

Year 2 pupils created chalk and oil pastel pictures of the northern lights.

Year 3 pupils have created art work in the style of Georgia O'Keefe linked to Science work on parts of plants.

Year 4 pupils have enjoyed swimming this week, learning about rolls and progressing their backstroke skills. They also have finally met the character of 'Crowky' in their class novel, 'Land of Roar'.

In Year 5, children have read with their reading partners. The stories they have read were personally special to them because they wrote stories especially for their reading partners. What a special and lovely thing to do.

Year 6 pupils have begun preparations for their end of year performance. 'Grease' is most definitely the word and we are all very excited to see the end production, his year performed by Year 5 and Year 6. One thing I know for sure is that by the end of the summer Term, I'll be singing these songs in my sleep.

We have a busy time coming up this half term with a summer fair, trips, concerts, reports, new starters and leavers. We look forward to all of it with excitement but the organisation that much of these events take can often go unnoticed. Bringing a school year to a safe, exciting and memorable conclusion takes preparation and attention to detail alongside all our other day to day work – so please do bear with us in the school office at this busy time.

Have a wonderful, restful holiday.
